Two Doors restaurant in Dubbo offers a mixed dining experience, with some customers raving about their fantastic meals and impeccable service, while others express disappointment and frustration with various issues. The restaurant has a charming layout and atmosphere, with indoor and outdoor dining options. Some highlights include the delicious food, especially the pork belly and the breakfast tower, as well as the friendly and welcoming staff. However, there are clear problems with service, including forgotten orders, slow delivery of food, and lack of attention to customers.
